

Gov. Dewey's 'Retirement' Believed To Be Only Temporary

WASHINGTON (AP)—The withdrawal of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey from the New York governorship picture was regarded by most politicians here as intended to be only a temporary retirement from active politics.

These politicians inclined to the view that Dewey, Republican nominee for President in 1944 and 1948, has convinced himself that at the age of 52 he has one more such run in his system.

He announced in a statewide broadcast from New York last night that "not under any circumstances" will he be a candidate this fall for a fourth term as governor, or for any other office.

He did not say he would never again be a candidate. His statement said he would not be running "this fall."

Perhaps significantly, he said in his announcement that in private life he would "continue to take an active interest in the cause of good government and enlightened public policies." He said he would be "actively in the campaign to elect my successor."

In Washington GOP circles, in-

Eisenhower, the general excluding those close to President Dewey, retiring after 12 years in the gloomy mansion at Albany, would remain a close advisor to Eisenhower and the national administration.

As one who helped get Eisenhower in the race for the GOP nomination in 1952 and who has had the White House ear since, he remains one of the relatively small group to whom Eisenhower might turn for a recommended successor if the President decides not to run again in 1956.

If Eisenhower does try again, some think Dewey may run in 1956 for the Senate seat now held by Sen. Herbert Lehman (D).

Then there is the possibility that Eisenhower would name Dewey to a high federal post. The governor has been mentioned several times as a possible successor to Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, should the latter decide to retire.

In Denver, where he is summing up Eisenhower's decision—a regret obviously shared by many Republicans who felt that the New York prizes in this year's battle for control of Congress may have receded somewhat with Dewey's name off the ballot.

New York Republicans will nominate a candidate for governor in their Sept. 22-23 convention.

While the Democrats have not yet nominated their candidate for governor, the two most prominent names mentioned are Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. and New York City Mayor Robert Wagner. The magic of the name of FDR could still carry weight, many observers feel. And Wagner's popularity grows daily in the metropolitan area where New York elections generally are decided.

COUNCIL TO STUDY BAN ON ALL ALLEY PARKING

SEATO Pact Tells Reds: 'Hands Off'

8 Nations OK Plan For Mutual Assistance Against Aggression

MANILA (AP)—Eight nations of the East and the West signed a collective security pact today which in effect warns the Communists against any further aggression in Southeast Asia.

It took just three days for the United States, France, Great Britain, Australia, New Zealand, Thailand, Pakistan and the Philippines to reach complete accord.

The treaty hangs a big "no trespassing" sign on small nations in the area. It binds the eight nations militarily and economically and declares each party will meet the "common danger" of armed attack in the treaty area or against any member "in accordance with its constitutional processes."

Australia's Richard G. Casey was first to sign the historic document. He began affixing his signature to the various copies at 4:02 a. m. EST.

THE DOCUMENTS, about 12x18 inches, were bound in dark blue leather. The ministers signed with individual gold pens.

Casey was followed by France's Guy la Chambre, New Zealand's T. Clifton Webb and Pakistan's Sir Mohammed Zafrullah Khan.

The entire Philippine delegation then signed, led by Vice President Carlos P. Garcia, chairman of the conference.

The Philippine delegation, dressed in native tagalog shirts, was followed by Thailand's Prince Wan (Continued on Page Two)

Saxbe-Bender Powwow Called

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Republicans who opposed each other in a bitter Ohio primary for Senate candidacy met here today in a strategy meeting aimed at drawing strength for the winner from the loser's camp.

Republican National Chairman Leonard Hall called the meeting for Rep. George H. Bender of Ohio, GOP candidate for the Senate, Ohio House Speaker William Saxbe, defeated by Bender for the Senate bid, was scheduled to attend.

Bender opposes Sen. Thomas A. Burke (D-Ohio) for the remaining two-year term of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio).

Cigarettes, Coffee, Cocktails Hike Women's Ulcers, Claim

CHICAGO (AP)—A surgeon blamed cigarettes, cocktails and the "coffee break" today for an increase in the ulcer rate among women.

Dr. Leo J. Starry, professor of surgery at the University of Oklahoma Medical School, said the incidence of the serious, bleeding-type ulcer has increased among both men and women in the last 10 years, but at a faster clip for women.

One of every four ulcer sufferers today is a woman. The ratio formerly was one in five.

Dr. Starry said the coffee break now is standard practice in many offices and industrial establishments.

He believes this has resulted

Council Asked To Add Five More Policemen To Force

City council Tuesday night was asked to increase the size of Circleville's police force by nearly 50 percent, but the lawmakers held the request for future decision with only lukewarm interest.

Police Chief Elmer Merriman has repeatedly asked for more regular patrolmen, warning that his department is dangerously undermanned and that it could lead to a law enforcement emergency for the community. The ordinance placed before council Tuesday night was sponsored by Merriman and City Safety Director Oscar Root.

Root, along with the chief, has emphasized that nothing can be done to enlarge the force unless council approves it.

Council was unable to act finally on the ordinance submitted Tuesday night since two councilmen were absent, making it impossible to pass the measure immediately under suspension of the rules. However, none of the lawmakers indicated much enthusiasm for the ordinance. And Councilman George Crites, chairman of the finance committee, made it clear he does not approve any such step at this time.

WHEN THE ordinance, calling for the addition of five more regular patrolmen was read, Councilman Ray Cook promptly said: "I suggest a first reading."

Since this was the extent of any action possible anyway, Cooks comment tended to close discussion on the proposal until next meeting. However, Crites declared the five additional patrolmen would cost the city $17,000 a year.

And he added that the police department this year "will probably cost us about $50,000 as it is." Following the meeting, Crites explained he also had in mind the retirement provisions when he made the estimates.

"I don't know how we can do it," he said. "Sure, I know we need more policemen—but we also need more firemen too. I just can't see how we can afford it."

No further discussion was held on the subject.

MEANWHILE, residents of a Northend neighborhood disclosed prowlers have been active in their section of the city. In asking for installation of a new street light, residents near N. Pickaway St. and Linden Lane pointed out it was needed, in addition to other reasons, to help discourage prowlers.

It was the first public mention of prowlers since a series of prowler incidents in the South end last month.

Gordon Warns Lawmakers Of 'Hot Potato'

Wide Disagreement Seen On How Law Should Be Worded

Despite a warning from Council President Ben Gordon that they are toying with a "hot potato," city lawmakers Tuesday night decided to study a proposal to ban parking in any Circleville alley.

After a short but vigorous discussion, council okayed a motion to have the necessary ordinance prepared. It will presumably come up for first reading at council's next meeting, Sept. 21.

Under proposed wording for the measure, it would ban all alley parking in Circleville.

The matter was touched off near the end of the session by Police Chief Elmer Merriman, who called attention to the fact that the city's present law prohibits parking in alleys only in certain parts of the community. Up until the time this was learned by research on city ordinances, most officials were under the impression that the ban on alley parking was much wider in scope.

MERRIMAN himself admitted that motorists have been tagged in sections outside the areas stipulated in the old ordinance. But he explained this was done in good faith as a traffic control measure, and likewise reminded council the matter is of vital importance to the fire department.

Attention was centered on the subject recently when a car parked in a downtown alley delayed the fire department for a few minutes in reaching the scene of a W. Main St. blaze.

While the area is one of those mentioned in the present law, the police chief told of difficulties the police encountered in having the motorist penalized. At one stage, he recalled, he was officially advised that prosecution of the case would not be possible.

The chief said he also had trouble in bringing the matter to council's attention Tuesday night. He said he was told an ordinance could not be prepared until the matter was placed before council's ordinance committee.

Councilman Ray Cook expressed surprise at this, and said he did (Continued on Page Two)

Thurmond Enters Race For Senate

COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP)—Former Gov. J. Strom Thurmond's written entry into the U. S. Senate race in South Carolina today fanned a fight among state Democrats.

Thurmond spearheaded the split in the Democratic party when he ran for President on the States Rights ticket in 1948. He will oppose State Sen. Edgar A. Brown, who helped keep the state in the party fold in 1952.

Brown was named by the State Executive Committee to run for the seat vacant since the death of Sen. Burnet R. Maybank last Wednesday. Maybank had been re-nominated in the June Democratic primary. There is no Republican candidate.

B17 Designer Dies

CLEVELAND (AP)—Funeral arrangements have been set tentatively for tomorrow for Robert J. Minshall, principal designer of the B17 Flying Fortress used in World War II. A pioneer in aviation design, Minshall, 56, died yesterday of a cerebral hemorrhage.

Stop Signs Puzzle City's Lawmakers

City council Tuesday night borrowed a page from the tragedy of the overalls and Mrs. Murphy's chowder.

Suddenly, near the end of the meeting, Councilman Ray Cook demanded to know who put the two extra stop signs at the corner of Washington and Ohio streets. And the question is still aching for an official answer.

Cook, in his surprise query just before adjournment, pointed out that two new stop signs on Washington make the corner a four-way stop intersection. Ohio previously was a "stop street" at that spot.

The change, Cook claimed, was made only in recent weeks. And he added:

"I don't recall any legislation passed here to make it a four-way stop."

NEITHER apparently did any of the other members of council recall any such ordinance.

Police Chief Elmer Merriman said he knew nothing of the new stop signs until they were found in place. And City Safety Director Oscar Root said he did not know anything about the matter.

When several of those present proceeded to probe into the mystery, it was speculated that City Service Director Dewey Speakman "might have put them up."

"And by whose authority?" Cook demanded to know.

But nobody had an answer. Speakman could not be reached.

Judge-Ouster Move Battled

POMEROY (AP)—The Fourth District Court of Appeals has been asked to dismiss charges of misconduct in office filed against Common Pleas Judge Cedric Clark.

Attorneys for Judge Clark claim the district court has no authority to remove the judge. They also say misconduct charges filed by tuting grounds for removal.

O'Brien charged the judge with engaging in private law practice after becoming judge in 1953. Most of the allegations cited concern mortgages, real estate transfers and settlement of estates.

City PTA Set For Opening Fall Meeting

The Circleville Parent-Teacher Association will hold its first meeting of the fall term Thursday at 8 p. m. in the high school auditorium.

Theme of the gathering will be centered on the bond issue to be placed before city voters here in November. The proposed bond issue is designed to spark a long-term school building program.

Main speakers of the evening will be City Schools Superintendent George Hartman, Virgil Cress and Mrs. Walter Heine.

Hartman will discuss a survey made of the greatly increased student load, chief barometer in pointing up the growing strain on city school facilities. Cress will display a map which shows the home location of each pupil in reference to the school districts accommodations.

And Mrs. Heine will tell what the bond issue could mean for the Circleville school system.

ALSO FEATURED will be a question-and-answer period, headed by a panel composed of the following: Hartman, Cress, Walter Denman, Mrs. Heine, and Dr. William A. Rickey.

Thursdays meeting will be the first meeting held under the leadership of Rickey, the new PTA president. Urging a full attendance, Rickey said:

"We want a heavy representation from the local PTA units, so that they will understand the bond issue and be able to present the facts to the people they must contact during the PTA's house-to-house canvass."

"Anyone who has any doubts about the need of the bond issue, or wants to know anything about it, should come and ask questions."

The Rev. John Hurst will deliver the invocation. Members of the Walnut PTA will be in charge of refreshments.

Marian Ceremony Set In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—Thousands of Roman Catholics will make a pilgrimage to Soldier Field tonight to join in a mass-salute tribute to Mary, mother of Christ.

A crowd of 150,000 of the faithful is expected to go to the huge open-air amphitheater on the lake front.

They will join in reciting a Rosary, a litany of the Blessed Virgin and a pledge of allegiance to the U. S. flag, and will sing "The Star Spangled Banner."

Samuel Cardinal Stritch will offer a solemn pontifical mass at 8:15 p. m. at a special altar.

NEW YORK (AP)—A team of three psychologists report that tests given to front-line U. S. infantrymen in Korea show that outstanding combat troops have higher intelligence than poor fighters.

Purse Missing From Counter; Contained $156

A purse containing more than $156 in bills, change and a check, was taken from a market counter Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Flora Little, who operates Clay's Market on Route 23 with her husband, reported the theft to Deputy Sheriff Carl Radcliff. She said the money consisted of: $132 in bills; $1 in change; and a check for $23.77 issued by the Crites Canning Company to Ida Van Gundy, which Mrs. Little had cashed.

According to the report, Mrs. Little had been preparing peach preserves in the back of the market when a meat delivery man came in. She came out front and paid him. He then left.

Remembering that she had to stir the peaches, Mrs. Little left her purse, with all the money, on the counter near the cash register. She called to a girl employee asking her to watch the front of the market while she went back.

AT APPROXIMATELY 6 p. m., which was later than Mrs. Little had intended to remain in the back, she came out front and discovered the purse missing, the deputy reported. The purse had been there since 4:15 p. m.

The girl employee said she did not notice the purse on the counter, according to Deputy Radcliff.

In addition to the money and check, the purse contained the following in a billfold: Michigan driver's license; Ohio temporary driver's permit; birth certificate; and social security card.

The purse was described as being of brown leather with a zipper.

2 Breakins, Thefts Reported In Area

Two breakins and thefts have been reported by deputies of Sheriff Charles Radcliff.

Deputy Carl White received a report that 18 cases of corn were stolen from a cooling tank at Ashville. Value of the corn was set at $45, he reported.

Deputy Dwight Radcliff said a house on Route 56, one mile southeast of Thatcher, was broken into. The home belongs to James Stack. Stack said he left for work at 7 a. m. When he returned at 5 p. m., he said he found the house ransacked.

MISSING were six or seven shirts, a two-pound box of cheese, a loaf of bread and five packs of cigarettes, Stack declared.

A pair of overalls, with markings from the Boys Industrial School at Lancaster, was left behind by the intruder. The pants were traced to a recent escapee of the school.

Council Votes To Take First Step In Lovers Lane Project

City To Signify Intention To Condemn Land

Property Owners Want Arbor Road Kept Dead-End

Although they assembled short-handed for their first September meeting Tuesday night, the city lawmakers cleared away some of the red tape from long-postponed actions and also lit the fuse for potential arguments in future sessions.

Councilmen Clarence Helvering and John Robinson were absent.

With the opening of formal discussions, Attorney Kenneth Robbins, hired earlier this summer as assistant city solicitor, described how the city is faced with several land acquisition problems before progress can be made on long pending projects. Of these he mentioned:

Improvements in the Lovers Lane and Rosewood Ave. districts and the proposed widening of S. Pickaway St.

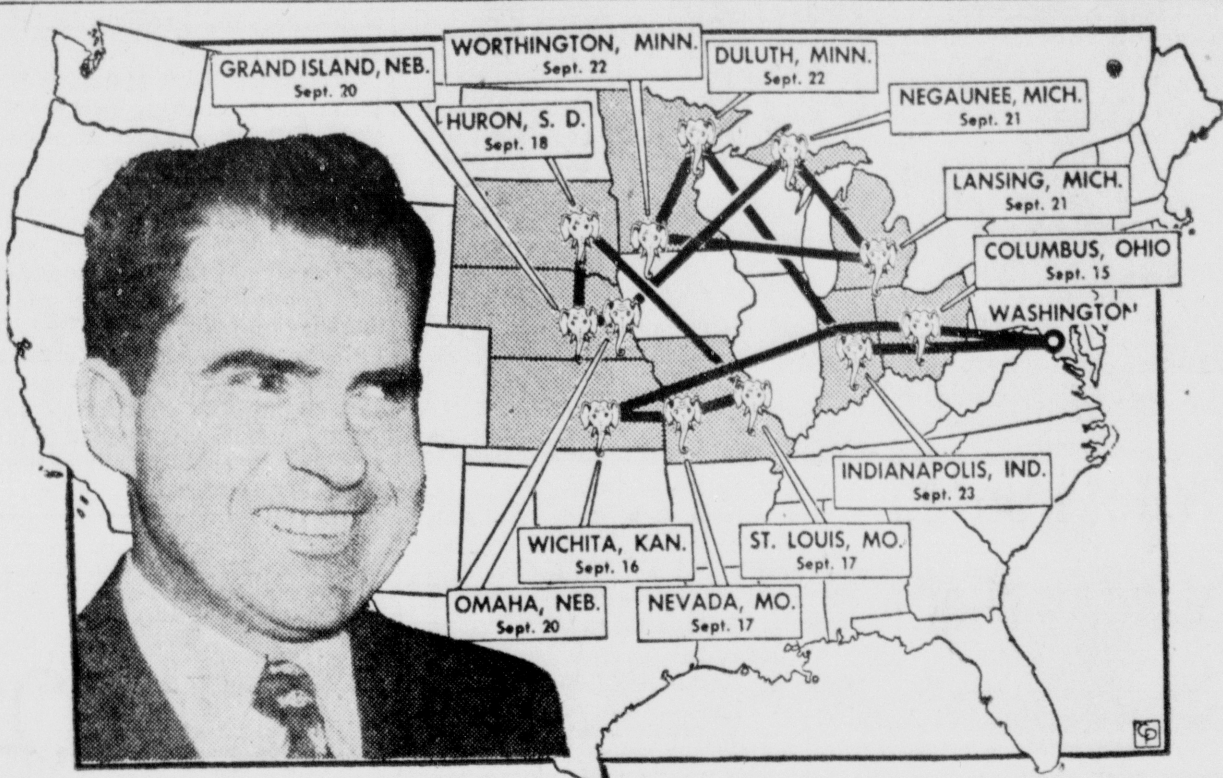

ROBBINS HAS been retained especially to seek a way through legal barriers blocking those jobs and possibly others like them in the picture of city development. Widening of Lovers Lane has been discussed at intervals over the past two or three years, and the S. Pickaway St. problem was first brought to council's attention several months ago. Among other improvements, the lawmakers have been studying plans for a major sewer project in the Rosewood Ave. area.

The discussion brought out that property owner objections are certain to face the city when any move is made to advance the Lovers Lane and S. Pickaway St. projects. And Robbins told council it should move to appropriate the land needed "of else forget about the work for the time being."

Councilman Harold Clifton moved that Robbins be authorized to prepare preliminary legislation for the Lovers Lane project, and this was finally passed.

However, it was emphasized the action will only be to signify the city's intention of condemning property essential to the improvements.

When Councilman Boyd Horn urged that Council continue to wait in anticipation that property owners

THE FIRST SWING of Vice President Richard M. Nixon's speaking tour, which eventually will take him into 30 states where there are tight congressional races, is mapped above. In announcing the first itinerary, Nixon said Republicans will have to work even harder this fall than they did in 1952 in order to elect a GOP-controlled Congress. He will rest three days, and then start out again.

ers will donate land sections, Clifton pointed out: "We've been waiting now for about two years." And Horn reminded him: "Rome didn't burn in 15 minutes."

BEFORE THE legislators decided to give Robbins the preliminary authority, Councilmen Ray Cook and George Crites pressed for some assurance that the Lovers Lane project would be within the city's financial reach.

Robbins conceded that when the time would come for the land appropriation ordinance—the second of two main steps involved—it would have to be stipulated that the necessary funds are available. At the same time, he reminded both Cook and Crites that estimates on total cost at this time can only be guesses since there is no way to predict what compensation a jury would decide upon in condemnation litigation.

Crites said finally that he was willing to take the preliminary step after Robbins said he figured—"but it's only a guess"—that total cost of the Lovers Lane project will be "about three or four thousand dollars." Cook also said he would go along with the move to signify the city's intent, but warned he will want "a lot more information" before he will also agree to the improvements.

The motion to give Robbins the lead-off authority was passed over Horn's dissenting vote, 4 to 1.

A delegation of property owners in the Arbor Road area then asked Council to reconsider its decision to eliminate the dead-end in that street. Council in a recent meeting had voted to link Arbor Road with a street in the Zwicker's Woods property owned by sons of Walter Heise, tying the action against recommendations of the city planning and zoning commission.

Property owners Tuesday night pointed out that any elimination of the roads dead-end would encourage sight-seeing motorists to drive through the area, to the detriment of property values and creating a traffic problem. However, Council held the matter for further discussion.

A PETITION asking for a street light at N. Pickaway and Linden Lane was referred to the safety committee for a report at the next meeting.

Led by Clifton, the lawmakers went on to adopt a resolution under which the city announced its intent to acquire property to widen an alley running north from Rosewood Ave. Clifton declared the additional land is needed to make the alley a street, but he and Horn argued over the necessity of such action for several minutes.

The adoption was voted over Horn's dissent. Cook underlined the fact that the move was only preliminary—that is, merely announcing the city's intent so that property owners may file objections if they wish to do so.

Council then swung into a series of new measures and held them all to first reading, not having enough members present to pass any of them under suspension of rules. Leading off was the proposal to increase the size of the city police force.

Next in line was an ordinance that would appropriate $1,800 "for the purpose of feeding prisoners in the city jail from the general fund." Crites explained the original appropriation of $2,200 had been exhausted and that the additional money was needed to finish out the calendar year.

The city pays the county for boarding prisoners after their cases are disposed of, and Crites also pointed out that food has to be served to prisoners being held in the city's own basement bastille under city hall. The pending ordinance mentions only the feeding of prisoners in the city jail.

THREE OTHER ordinances which council had to hold to first reading call for:

1. Appropriation of $600 for the purchase of fire hydrants.
2. Appropriation of $190 for street signs and accessories.
3. Transfer of $5,200 within the water department for truck operation and maintenance, service connections and main extensions.

Two measures held over from the previous session likewise had to be held for final action later.

One would appropriate $1,500 for the salaries of deputy clerks of the municipal court. And the other would increase by $25 a month the salary of Court Clerk Anne Caudill. This measure also stipulates that she shall receive two weeks vacation with pay each year.

The lawmakers then heard a proposal from Councilman Richard Penn for the city of Circleville to join the Ohio Municipal League, a statewide organization which operates to protect the interests and encourage the development of the various municipalities.

The necessary ordinance will be drawn up for next meeting.

COOK at this point suddenly unfolded the mystery of who placed unauthorized stop signs at the corner making it a four-way stop intersection of Washington and Ohio streets. The question promised to grow before it is answered to the satisfaction of the lawmakers.

And as the three-hour session came to a close, council decided to call for what Council President Ben a hot potato—a measure that would prohibit parking in alleys anywhere within the city limits. It was understood this potential legislation will be up for first reading next session.

'Mutt And Jeff' Creator Is Dead

NEW YORK (AP)—Bud Fisher, 69, creator of the famous "Mutt and Jeff" comic strip, died here yesterday of cancer.

Fisher started his famous comic strip for the San Francisco Chronicle in 1907. He had gone West in the early part of the century with ambitions to be a prize fighter. However, he abandoned this plan after one fight—in which he was knocked cold.

Fisher then turned to drawing sketches and cartoons put in windows of stores to attract customers, and finally obtained a job with the Chronicle.

'Grass Roots' Caravan Set To Woo GOP Voters In Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Make way for the "grass roots" caravan.

Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill, Republican incumbent for a third term, and eight congressional candidates have lined up one of the most ambitious caravan routes of the November election campaign.

Starting next Friday, the caravan will tour all counties in the eight congressional districts for personal contacts with as many voters as possible.

"I firmly believe in meeting personally the man or woman who will cast a vote—telling him what I believe—and answering as many questions as he may care to ask," O'Neill said. "The congressional candidates who will share this 'campaign caravan' hold the same view. 'Together we will present to the voters both the state and national picture, emphasizing the need for vigorous leadership.'

Congressional candidates and their districts are: State Rep. John E. Henderson of Cambridge, 15th; A. D. Baumhart Jr., of Sandusky, 13th; Rep. Jackson E. Betts of Findlay, 8th; Rep. William M. McCulloch of Piqua, 4th; Leo Blackburn of Portsmouth, 6th; Rep. Oliver P. Bolton of Mentor, 11th; William E. Minshall Jr., of Rocky River, 23rd and Rep. Frances P. Bolton of Lyndhurst, 22nd.

The caravan will spend at least two days in each congressional district. O'Neill said he planned to visit an average of 11 towns a day on the tour. It works like this: An advance sound truck rolls through towns several minutes ahead of the caravan, announcing its approach. A station wagon equipped with loud speakers will carry the candidates to the center of towns on the route. It will stop near the town square, courthouse or downtown business district.

Candidates will make speeches and shake hands with as many people as possible before moving to the next town.

Theme of the tour, O'Neill said, will be the importance to President Eisenhower's program of electing Republican congressmen and candidates. Local issues also will be stressed by individual candidates.

O'Neill tried out the caravan campaign technique two years ago in young Bolton's district in northeastern Ohio. He credited the caravan with helping him pile up a half million margin in a total vote greater than received by any other Ohio attorney general.

So he expanded the caravan this year to include congressional districts covering a large portion of the state. Districts with large rural areas were selected for the caravan to visit. O'Neill explained that traffic, ordinances and other factors worked against caravan campaigning in metropolitan areas.

The "grass roots" caravan will tour the 15th District Sept. 10-11 with stops in Zanesville and Marietta among about two dozen towns.

Dates and major cities to be visited in other districts include: Sept. 20-21, 13th District with stops in Lorain, Elyria and Sandusky.

Sept. 22-23, 8th District with stops in Findlay, Upper Sandusky, Marion, Fostoria and Tiffin.

Sept. 24-25, 4th District with stops in Lima and Piqua.

Sept. 27-29, 6th District with stops in Chillicothe, Portsmouth, Washington Court House and Circleville.

Sept. 30-Oct. 1, 11th District with stops in Warren, Ashtabula and Conneaut.

Oct. 15-16, 23rd District and Oct. 20-21, 22nd District, both in Cuyahoga County outside Cleveland.

Court Held In Ambulance For Kidnaper

ZANESVILLE (AP)—Court was held in an ambulance here yesterday as a meek, unshaven Brockton, Mass., man pleaded innocent to a charge of transporting a stolen car across a state line.

Both ankles of Charles F. Noonan, 26, were broken, police said, when he was thrown from a car after forcing a bride of two weeks to drive him from Pittsburgh. He was found Saturday on a highway near Cambridge.

Police said the woman, Mrs. Raymond Lang, 26, of Homestead Park, Pa., told them Noonan got out of her car near a motel at Cambridge, took the keys but did not lock the ignition. She said she locked the car doors, started the car, and Noonan was hurled to the ground when he tried to leap on the vehicle.

U. S. Commissioner Homer E. Walters crawled into the ambulance for the arraignment. Noonan's left ankle is taped pending surgery; his right ankle is in a heavy cast.

Bond was set at $5,000 after Noonan waived preliminary hearing. He is scheduled to appear in U. S. District Court in Columbus. Walters said a federal grand jury might be asked to consider kidnapping charges against Noonan.

Parking Meters Still Bring In $500 Per Week

Chairman George Crites of city council's finance committee disclosed Tuesday night that Circleville's parking meters are still clicking at $500 or better per week.

He said parking meter revenue reported for August, $2,616, was actually the meter income for a five-week period. Crites mentioned the meter revenue in submitting the August financial report of City Auditor Lillian Young.

The report, showing funds, receipts, expenditures and balances, was accepted by council as follows:

General Fund $8,348.55, $10,916.31, $19,158.99; Water Works Operating Fund $8908.25, $4,557.12, $33,489.63; Sewage Disposal Fund $2019.56, $6,435.18, $8870.39; Auto Street Repair Fund $1,071.22, $2,876.31, $16,110.28; Gasoline Tax Fund $3,594.00, $3,235.62, $4,144.34; Water Works Trust Fund, $75, $95, $224.00; Police Pension Fund, none, $301.25, $14,422.84; Firemen Pension Fund none $125, $19,502.30; Water Works Improvement Fund none, none, $4,138.33.

Collection Parking Meters for August $2,616.00.

County Fair Director Poll Change Eyed

COLUMBUS (AP)—A legislative committee studying county fairs is considering proposals to elect county fair directors by popular vote at regular elections.

The group also asked authority to investigate complaints about the state fair.

Rep. Elton Kile (R-Madison), committee chairman, said complaints have been made about cliques that rules county fairs. Directors are elected now by members of county agricultural societies who buy season fair tickets.

Kiles said there were complaints that a carnival atmosphere had taken over the state fair to the detriment of agricultural and industrial exhibits, causing a drop in attendance, loss of interest.

The committee is an arm of the legislative service commission, created by the General Assembly to study state problems.

Two other Republicans moved and seconded the proposal to investigate the state fair. They were Rep. J. Frank McClure of Ashland and Sen. Ralph L. Humphrey of

Merriman Reports On Survey Of 'Comics' Being Sold In City

Noting that a 30-day warning period given to local magazine dealers is nearing its end, Police Chief Elmer Merriman said he has personally surveyed the extent of the "comic book" problem in Circleville.

Merriman, like Pickaway County Prosecutor William Ammer, said he anticipated no difficulty in getting the cooperation of local dealers to help check sale and circulation of the fake "comic" booklets. Speaking for a group of city and county officials, Ammer a few weeks ago warned that sale of the "comics" is prohibited by law.

The police chief reported he had looked at the stock of magazines on display for sale in Circleville and that he believes the law is being respected. However, he added: "It isn't always easy to say when a magazine is obscene and when it isn't."

MEANWHILE, other Ohio communities continued to join the nationwide drive against the type of

By James Marlow
Associated Press
News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Thomas E. Dewey, in deciding not to run again for the governorship of New York, has left the door wide open to bid for the presidency or the United States Senate in 1956.

In a televised broadcast to the people of New York last night he said the time had come for him to return to private life and he will not be a candidate for any public office "this fall."

He did not say (1) he had given up all political ambitions or (2) that he was retiring to private life for keeps or (3) that he would not accept appointment to high public office, perhaps by President Eisenhower.

There has long been speculation here that he might succeed Secretary of State Dulles if the latter ever retired. This would require appointment by Eisenhower, who received a big assist from Dewey in getting the Republican presidential nomination in 1952.

The six-year Senate term of Herbert H. Lehman, 76-year-old Democrat and former New York governor, ends in 1956. If Dewey has abandoned hope for the presidency, he might shoot for Lehman's job two years from now.

Dewey is a two-time loser as a Republican nominee for president. He lost to President Roosevelt in 1944 and President Truman in 1948. In the next campaign, 1952, he worked for Eisenhower.

Two presidential defeats by the Democrats might seem enough to cool off Dewey. But they may have only aggravated his ambition. If Eisenhower does not seek re-election in 1956, Dewey may try again, if the Republicans let him.

They might not let him. The two defeats rankled with some members of his own party. Not so much the 1944, war-year trimming by Roosevelt, but the 1948 beating by Truman.

That year Dewey looked, to the political experts at least, like a sure winner until the ballots were counted. Later he was accused of having been so overconfident of victory that he coasted in the campaign instead of making it all-out, as Truman did.

And his part in the 1952 Republican convention—in helping steer the nomination to Eisenhower and away from the late Sen. Taft of Ohio—embittered a number of Taft's supporters.

But Dewey's critics and enemies could never deny he had been a popular governor of New York and that he was a true political pro.

In his announcement last night he listed some of the achievements of his 12-year administration. It was a long and impressive list. The confidence of the New York voters in his ability was illustrated by the three terms they gave him.

When it came to dealing with politicians, an incident at the Republican convention in Chicago in 1944 showed how coldly Dewey calculated.

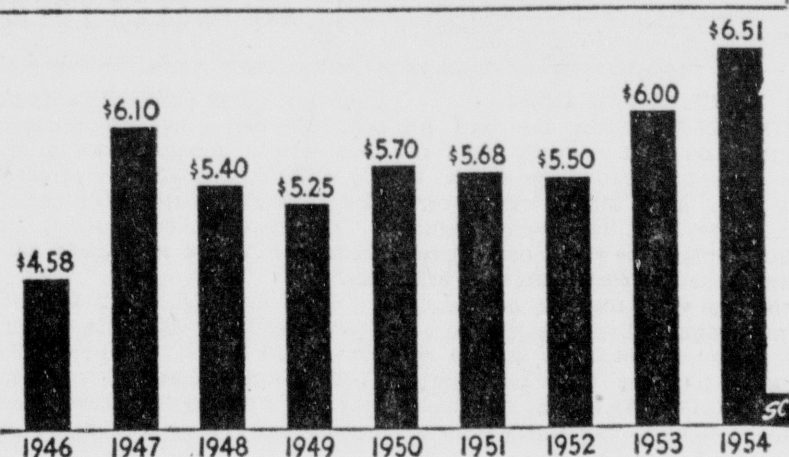

Sen. Bricker, then known only as the governor of Ohio, was his main rival that year. The two men had their headquarters on the same floor of the Palace Hotel.

Bricker's was ablaze with lights. The huge room was decorated with flowers and pictures of him. Optimistic supporters milled around. In Dewey's headquarters there were almost no lights, only one picture of him. It was almost deserted.

Shortly before nominating time Bricker held a huge reception. People choked his headquarters and stood in line by the hundreds to shake his hand. Dewey's place was in darkness.

This writer went to the suite occupied by Dewey's brain trust. One of his top aides was there,

Flour Prices Higher Despite Wheat Surplus

Today's surplus wheat stocks, largely government controlled, equal an entire year's crop! Yet American bakers and housewives are paying the highest prices for flour recorded at this time of year since 1920.

This fact is pointed out by E. E. Kelley, Jr., President of the American Bakers Association, commenting on a statement by Congressman Clifford Hope of Kansas that the price of bread has gone up although farmers are getting less for wheat than they were in January 1948.

Pointing out that there is more to the figures than meets the eye, Kelley said:

"That January 1948 price was the highest in 34 years and it lasted less than a month. It also is interesting to note that the carryover of wheat into the new crop in 1948 was less than 200-million bushels. None of it was government controlled."

This year the carryover was near 900-million bushels of which all but 50-million was government controlled. Beginning in 1949, the carryover has climbed steadily and government controlled supply has increased, Kelley said.

"It should be rather obvious that farmers would get more for wheat today if the market were not burdened with the surplus supply encouraged by the support program," Kelley declared.

In reply to the comment on the price of bread, the American Bakers Association's President pointed out that the baking company profits averaged near three cents out of every dollar in 1953. This was after taxes and this rate has prevailed for some time. He stated that reports the first half of this year indicate a decline of one third in percentage of earnings.

In addition to increased distribution costs, Kelley said that the rate of pay for bakery workers has increased as much as 150 per cent, while living costs have increased only 54 per cent.

"We are told that planting of wheat is shifting to varieties with a high yield per acre with regard to baking quality," Kelley said. "Millers claim they have trouble finding the quality of grain they need, as a result."

"If this is true, blame for encouraging such a practice must be laid at the door of those who promulgate farm prices and support programs without stipulating variety or quality."

Predicting that next year's wheat carryover will be greater than this year's Kelley said that as long as conditions described exist, "the farmer may get less but it does not follow the miller can pay less."

23,000 November Draftees Sought

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department wants 23,000 draftees in November.

This is the same quota requested for each month since July this year. The Defense Department dropped its draft calls to 18,000 for the months of February through June, then increased them.

The armed forces have drafted, including the projected levy for November, a total of 1,812,430 since the start of the Korean War. Of that total, 1,731,000 have been for the Army. The Marines used the draft briefly at one point during the Korean War. All of the November levy is for the Army.

GOP Chieftains Give Ike Invitation

COLUMBUS (AP)—President Eisenhower has been invited to be the guest of 21 Republican state chairmen of the Midwest and Rocky Mountain states at a breakfast Friday in Denver.

This was announced here by Ray C. Bliss, Ohio Republican chairman and chairman of the Midwest and Rocky Mountain Republican State Chairman's Assn. The breakfast will be part of a two-day meeting scheduled tomorrow and Friday, Bliss said.

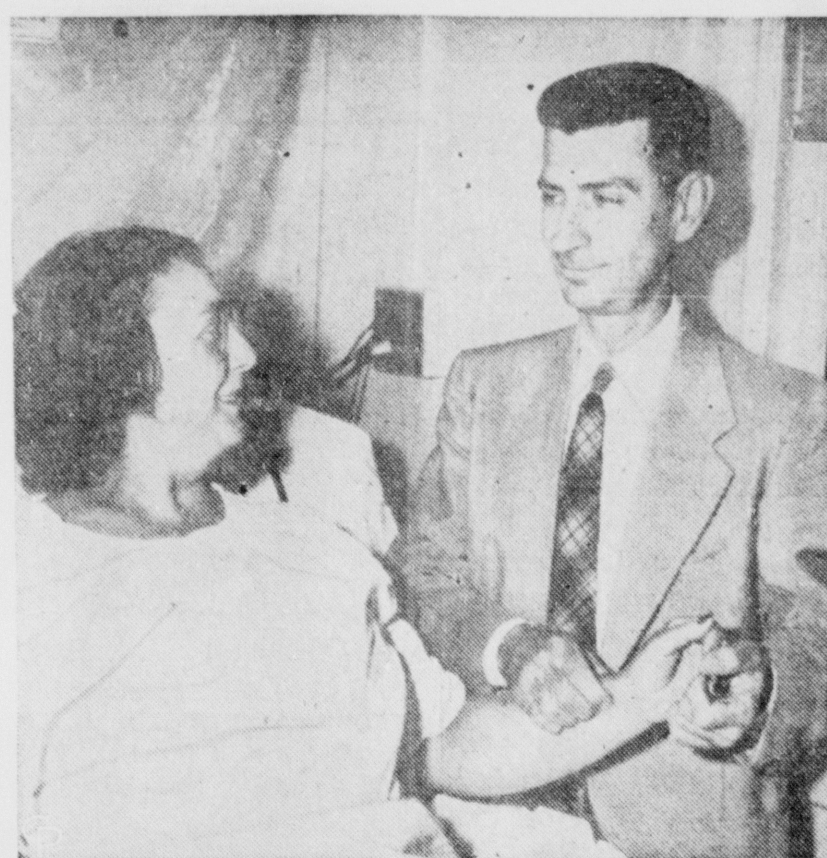

Twenty-one states are to be represented at the meeting limited to incumbent state chairmen.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U. S. Information Agency says its press service has "enraged Communists and undermined their influence in India, Japan, Austria and many other critical areas."

A summary of press service operations abroad was made public by USIA Director Theodore C. Streibert. It was prepared by Harlan Logan, chief of the press service.

Logan said the service relies "primarily upon objective, factual news reporting and commentaries based on facts." He said it sends 30,000 to 36,000 words of news, background and commentary weekly to 62 USIA posts overseas.

During the last year, some 93½ million booklets, magazines and newspapers in 50 languages were distributed, as well as more than 1,000 photographs.

Ohio Polio Total Now Set At 962

COLUMBUS (AP)—The state health department has reported 165 new cases of polio in Ohio for the week ended Sept. 4. This raises the year's total to 962.

Montgomery County recorded five new cases and Richland County one during this period, the department said. This brings the Montgomery total to 53 cases for the year and Richland to 13. The two counties took part in the recent nationwide Salk vaccine tests.

The test included injections to two groups of children. One group got the new vaccine and the other a control fluid. Results of the test will not be known until later.

POOR PRACTICE

COMMERCIAL airlines have a term, "no show," in relation to reservations for plane trips. This refers to people who book passages and then fail to show up. In larger cities where there are competing airlines, some patrons, anxious to insure passage, book several reservations at once. They frequently fail to cancel the reservations not picked up. On some flights half the passengers may fail to appear, it is reported.

Many lines of service are similarly affected. Taxis make many unrewarding trips. Proprietor of one drive-in eating place said 10 per cent of his orders result in "skips"—the driver leaves before his order is delivered.

Whether these reports have been exaggerated or not, this is a mighty poor practice anytime, anywhere. A business must consider the cost element. If an appreciable percentage of patrons contract for service they do not accept, they are adding overhead of the business involved — overhead which the customer must pay for.

The "no show" characters are certainly doing nothing to aid themselves or their fellow men when they walk out on their contracts.

PLAYING FOR KEEPS

FOLLOWING ITS Korean experience, the Army is swinging around to the view that it needs a tougher training program to save lives. Thousands of U. S. fatalities in that conflict are ascribed to softness in discipline and weakness in basic military skills.

Often U. S. soldiers didn't fire when they should have, and then they didn't aim to kill, according to one report. The charge has been made they were neither mentally nor physically conditioned to fight.

The Army's organization and training division has called on a group of battle-wise officers to suggest remedial action. A number of recommendations have been made, ranging from mandatory parachute or ranger training for all new officers to the return of increased authority to line non-commissioned officers. Non-coms who do not have command responsibilities will be given the rank of specialist, effective next March. Off-post saluting is to be reinstated.

If young men are to be prepared for all eventualities, the Army is convinced, they must learn how to play soldier for keeps.

A student of meteorological history says the weather has been more "fitful" than usual this summer. Perhaps it is merely trying to adjust itself to the times.

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

Charles P. Taft is president of the Committee for a National Trade Policy, Inc. which is an innocent enough name. All sorts of persons are interested in a National Trade Policy, from those who believe in a high tariff to those who favor free trade, and all stops in between. This Committee is more or less for free trade in the free world.

So Mr. Taft objects to an article I wrote some time back and notified one of my editors to that effect. The editor kindly sent me Taft's letter which contains, among other items of complaint, the following:

"In the full text of George Sokolsky's recent column headed 'Marginal Industries' he has repeated uncritically some of the current high tariff misrepresentations.

"But in one respect he added his own comment by referring to 'nasty' competition in Christmas toys 'from the atheistic countries behind the Iron Curtain.'

"While it is true that the Communist Party functionaries in those countries seek to submerge the Church, it is quite evident that the effort has not succeeded, as was so clearly demonstrated in the great Church gathering recently in East Germany. To label such strong supporters of the Church as Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary and Rumania as 'atheistic' is completely at variance with the known facts.

"One of the most potent forces in the fight against Communism is Christianity, Catholic, Orthodox and Protestant, and to damn these unfortunate countries, forced behind the Iron Curtain by superior force and geographical location with the charge of being 'atheistic' is a distinct disservice to any reasoned attempt to draw these 'Iron Curtain' countries back into the Free World."

This letter was written in July of 1954 when the renewed anti-religion campaign of the Soviet Universal State was moving at full blast, a fact which has been duly reported in this country. "Pravda," official organ of the Communist Party, published an editorial which said:

"One of the most alive and harmful remnants of capitalism in the consciousness of the people are religious prejudices. These prejudices to this day poison the mind (sozaniye) and happiness of our people and hinder them in taking an active part in the construction of Communism. . .

"... some Party, Komsomol, trade union, and other organizations called upon to carry out educational work among the masses, for some reason understand for 'freedom of conscience' only the freedom of disseminating religious points of view, forgetting that it is their duty to educate the workers and to develop scientific-atheistic propaganda."

Further, the "Pravda" articles says: "The consistent implementation of measures which provide for a further rise in the cultural level of the workers, the extensive dissemination of natural scientific knowledge, the demonstration of the achievements of Soviet science, technology and culture—these are the ways for the formation of a scientific-atheistic world outlook of the Soviet people. Scientific-atheistic propaganda must be developed in such a manner as not to offend the believers, but to influence them by example, conviction, and the dissemination of scientific knowledge."

Children Should Have Shots Against Tetanus

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

THE active playing years of children are filled with countless bumps and bruises. In most instances, a little cut or hurt can be adequately cared for by first-aid treatment in the home.

However, any deep cuts should be examined by a physician at once. Many of these wounds have to be closed by the doctor suturing or sewing the wound together. Injections to prevent infections and lockjaw or tetanus may also have to be given.

Destroying Germs

Many of these wounds occur while the child is playing in mud or dirt and must be carefully cleaned before the suturing is done. Many times penicillin must be injected into a muscle in order to prevent infection, for even if the wound looks clean, germs may have entered into it.

Most children should be immunized against lockjaw or tetanus with shots given at two- or three-year intervals. At the time of injury, a booster injection is usually given along with the penicillin.

Use of Tetanus Antitoxin

If the child has not been immunized against lockjaw, tetanus antitoxin must be administered. This entails two separate injections for the child. However, with the wide occurrence of injuries, it is recommended that all children be immunized against tetanus.

Recently, it was shown that penicillin and tetanus can be combined and given in one injection so the children need not have the discomfort of two separate ones. Prompt medical attention for wounds of any severity is of the utmost importance.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

MR. K: Is there such a thing as a low grade carbon monoxide poisoning?

ANSWER: There have been reported low grade or chronic cases of carbon monoxide poisoning due to improper venting of gas refrigerators. A common cause of so-called low grade carbon monoxide poisoning is fumes from a motor vehicle. The early symptoms of this poisoning are weakness, nausea and vomiting with headache. If a group of people in the same household all have the same symptoms, there should be suspicion of carbon monoxide poisoning.

CHAPTER ONE

TO BEGIN with, she had no business on that country road at that late hour and she knew it very well. Aunt Maude never worried, enjoying unconventionality herself, but Uncle Elihu had a tire-some sense of responsibility, and Penn was very fond of her uncle by marriage.

She should not have stayed on so long to hear that expatriate Russian talk. His accent had been so thick it had been impossible to understand him, anyway, even worse than her own accent and she had only studied Russian eight months. She had tried out a few phrases on the visitor and he had looked at her so blankly she had come away from the class with a sense of futility and a suspicion that the visitor had been some kind of fraud. So she had driven too fast with fog closing in and everything along the crooked road shrouded in mist and darkness.

That was why she did not notice the young soldier changing a tire in the shadow till she was fairly on him. Her brakes screamed and he leaped off balance and fell back sprawling on the edge of the road.

Penn's heart stopped for a minute as she brought the big car to a standstill and jumped out. If he lay still she would die!

But he did not lie still. He scrambled up and stalked out into the middle of the road, braced for combat.

"Of all the stupid—" he began savagely. Then in the sideways glow from her headlights he saw her and stopped. "Oh—sorry—" he muttered.

Penn was shaking all over, but she felt a rush of relieved and unreasonable anger.

"It was all your fault! Crouching down there in the dark. How did you expect me to see you?"

He walked a few steps toward her brushing off his clothes. "My fault?" he repeated in a tone of exasperated patience. "Listen, young lady, I was completely off the road—on the left-hand side."

Penn studied the situation incredulously. "You mean—but I couldn't be—anyway, it was so dark and foggy."

"You were heading straight off the road on the wrong side. Yelling at the top of your voice."

The radio—Rose Stevens was singing and I was singing too."

"Have you got an oil can in that car? One of my lugs is rusted and won't turn loose."

"I don't know. It's my aunt's car," she said.

As he started toward her car

Penn felt quick panic. He was very tall. He had powerful shoulders. This was a lonely place and by the radio it was already midnight. The keys were still in her car.

"You stay where you are," she ordered. "I'll see if I have an oil can."

"What the devil? All I want is a few drops of oil." He laughed, then sobered and stepped back. "You're right. You've got no business out here so late alone, but I suppose you know that. Never mind. I can get some oil out of my crankcase, maybe. Thank you very much for not killing me. I must be indestructible. A few thousand hooks and chains have labored hard for my annihilation in the last couple of years."

"Oh," said Penn, "you've just come home?"

"Been home two days. That's where I got this poor old heap—down off the blocks. Spent two days getting the cobwebs out of her." He gave the tire another kick. "Of course, I wouldn't have a flashlight," he grumbled.

"Oh, there's one in the car. I'll get it." She started toward her car.

"You," he said, "should remember that you run the risk of being a standstill in some crime magazine. Why don't you go home where you belong?"

"I'm not afraid for myself," she said coldly. "I just don't want anything to happen to my aunt's car."

"Nothing will happen to it if you look where you're going and leave grand opera alone. Your aunt must be a very trusting soul."

"My aunt," she put on a frigid tone, "is Mrs. Elihu Storey. And I'm Penn Houk. If you don't care to use my flashlight, I'll tell you again that I'm sorry and bid you good-night."

He took two strides nearer. "You said Storey. Do you mean Senator Storey?"

"Senator Storey is my aunt's husband." She was in the car now and had prodded the engine to life. She felt safe, even when he came all the way across the road. The dash light showed her his face. Rather a good-looking face, very weather-darkened and a trifle stern, but engaging, even though there was a black smudge on his brow.

"You live in a big brick house about a quarter of a mile down this road? With half-timbered gables and a magnolia tree out front?"

"Yes, I live in that house." The gears meshed neatly. She could leap away from him now when—

"And what had bust that mad March Nicholas, Junior, so aloof and resentful?"

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

news behind the news

By Ray Tucker

By LAWRENCE J. KEEFE
Editor's Note: While Ray Tucker is on vacation there will be guest columns by several prominent newspaper editors. Today's column is by Lawrence J. Keefe, political analyst of the Elizabeth (N. J.) Daily Journal.

Few observers of the New Jersey political scene will venture a definite prediction on the likely outcome of the campaign between Congressman Charles R. Powell, Democratic nominee for United States senator, and his Republican opponent, former Congressman Clifford P. Case.

However, everyone is agreed that this is one of the country's real rip-and-tuck political encounters and that it may have a determining effect on control of the United States Senate.

Normally, New Jersey is a Republican state when national issues are involved and rarely sends a Democrat to the Senate.

Yet normal conditions don't prevail in New Jersey today. Case is beset by unusual internal Republican troubles traceable to his record as a liberal congressman in his decade at Washington and to his early advocacy of General Eisenhower as a presidential candidate in the pre-convention days of 1952. Senator Taft's admirers made a strong albeit futile, effort to capture the New Jersey delegation to Chicago. Resentments arising from their failure since have been directed squarely at Case.

DEFENSIVE — Furthermore, New Jersey has a new and vigorous Democratic state administration, which has the Republican state organization clearly on the defensive and has uncovered scandals in the Division of Employment Security. These scandals occurred when the division was under the directorship of a popular former Republican governor, Harold G. Hoffman.

The present young Democratic governor, Robert B. Meyner, suspended Hoffman last spring.

Hoffman's sudden death in June was followed by publication of an open after-death letter in which he admitted the juggling of monies that led to a $300,000 shortage in the accounts of a bank of which Hoffman had been president.

The Republican legislative majority has tried to hamstring Governor Meyner's investigation of the Hoffman case. These happenings have combined to weaken Republican prestige.

CONTEST—Howell, the Democratic candidate, has won re-elections as Representative in 1950 and 1952 so easily that he became a state figure.

Although not well known personally in the populous area north of the Raritan River, despite something of an ad interim tenure as Democratic state chairman, Howell has overcome this difficulty sufficiently, even as Case has beaten down the criticism that his acquaintanceships were confined largely to Union County, where he resides.

Howell's election is eagerly desired by Governor Meyner, who, despite the usual denials may be New Jersey's "favorite son" presidential entry in the 1956 Democratic National Convention with the object mainly of winning the vice-presidential nomination if the presidential candidate should be Adlai E. Stevenson or someone similarly placed geographically.

Case's foes within the Republican party are protesting with much bitterness that there is no difference in the political philosophy held by Case and Howell, that both are "New Dealers" at heart.

Illustrative of Case's troubles in gaining full Republican support, is the warning of George F. Stringfellow, West Orange industrialist, that he and his friends will "go fishing" on election day rather than vote for Case. Stringfellow is a former chairman of the Republican State finance Committee and probably was on the closest terms of friendship of any Jerseyman with the late Senator Taft.

Neither Howell nor Case has as yet said anything resounding or attention-arresting, with the exception of Case's unreserved disclaimer of McCarthyism. This caused a surprise because it came at a moment when things were proceeding quietly in the Case campaign.

Howell also is anti-McCarthy but has been more restrained than Case in his denunciation of the Wisconsin Republican Governor Meyner, who delivered anti-McCarthy talks in Wisconsin and elsewhere, has expressed the opinion that McCarthyism won't play any part in the New Jersey election.

The Case canvas in the last two months of the campaign will be centered on the appeal that "a vote for Case is a vote for Ike" just as Howell will devote himself to telling the public why "it's time for a change." Howell, however, at the moment must be accorded a slight edge in the contest for the seat that Sen. Robert C. Hendrickson is leaving by Republican leadership request on the grounds that he lacks political sex appeal.

Try, Stop Me

To editors, statisticians, credit managers, and social climbers the one indispensable library item is "Who's Who." My friend Sam Levenson assures me that it also was frequently mentioned in his modest boyhood apartment in Brooklyn. At regular intervals, he recalls, his father would flex his muscles and loudly declare, "Any minute I'm gonna show you fresh kids who's who around here!"

Hiram College in Ohio boasts two especially famous alumni: Vachel Lindsay and James A. Garfield. The latter was prey at the college when he was tapped for bigger things by the Republican National Convention in 1880.

"Garfield's story points a moral," Merle Dowd, who knows all the Hiramifications, told me. "You're a sucker to leave a beautiful campus like ours. What happened to President Garfield when he moved to Washington? He got shot!"

Monrovia Garden Club Has Installation Of Officers

Johnny Appleseed Is Program Topic

Monrovia Garden Club held installation of new officers in the farm home of Mrs. Ernest Sheets at the final meeting of the club year. Members and guests admired the beautiful floral arrangements attractively displayed by the hostesses throughout the home.

Mrs. Francis Furniss, president, opened the meeting with officer reports. The president announced that the club had received a total of 97 1-2 points on the club yearbook.

Plans were discussed for the club arrangement for the Pickaway County Fair, "Autumn Bounty", the theme for the project, is to be representative of our Fall harvest. Mrs. John O'Day and Mrs. Donald Smith are heading this project.

The first part of the program for the evening was devoted to Johnny Appleseed. Mrs. Lloyd Neff read a poem entitled "Johnny Appleseed's Grave". Mrs. John Seibel then reviewed the book "A Voice In The Wilderness".

It was brought out that Johnny Appleseed was a pioneer and evangelist as well as a nurseryman. He entered Ohio about the time it received its statehood.

While he was active in Ohio only twenty-eight years, his nurseries were fruitful after he left to continue westward. Today memorials and the Johnny Appleseed Highway are tributes to his work and memory.

The outgoing president, Mrs. Furniss, was presented with an appropriate gift and corsage for her devotion and leadership during the past year. Verses accompanying the gift were read by Mrs. Furniss.

Mrs. Furniss then conducted the installation ceremony for the new officers. Mrs. Gene Smith was installed as secretary, Mrs. Raymond Grabbill, treasurer, Mrs. Lloyd Neff, second vice-president, Mrs. Harry Dick first vice-president, and Mrs. William Snyder, president. At the conclusion of the installation each new officer was presented with a bouquet of flowers from the garden.

Mrs. Furniss announced the plans for an October meeting to be held in the home of Mrs. James Wills. A fruit and vegetable display as well as a specimen exhibit will be conducted.

Refreshments were served to nineteen members and two guests. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Furniss, Mrs. Gene Donohoe, and Miss Laura Long.

At the conclusion of the daily 4-H Clothing Projects Modeling Revues of The Ohio State Fair, the announcement was made that Miss Sidney Graves is the state winner of a Dress-Up-Dress classification.

Sidney is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Graves of Kingston Route 1, and a member of Logan Elm Sunny Sewers. She and her advisor have been awarded a trip to Ohio Club Congress by the Ohio State Fair.

There were five other county entries in Home Economics activity classes, each receiving Grade A ratings: Beverly Thornton, Elaine Quillen, Fonda Liston in Clothing Revue, and Mary Ann Noecker with a demonstration, "Don't Pack Up Your Troubles."

Ten members from Pickaway County had projects on exhibit. They included Zoe Dell Riggins, Yvonne Gibson, Lois Thompson, Alice Baum, Phyllis Dewey Edith Defenbaugh, Martha Pile Linda Wilson, Kathy Schmidt and Ann Smith.

Bride-Elect Is Honored Guest At Shower Party

Mrs. Catherine Goodman and daughter, Mary Frances, of Amanda, Mrs. Dorothy Clark and daughter, Louise of Circleville honored Miss Nancy Easter, bride-elect of Bob Walker, with a pre-nuptial shower.

Contests were won by Miss Catherine Leist and Mrs. Louise Glitt. Those present were: Miss Easter, honored guest, Mrs. Olive Lovett of Stoutsville; Mrs. Clara Kraft, Mrs. Joan Hinton and son of Amanda; Mrs. Louise Glitt, Betty Glitt, Mrs. Mae Hartley, Miss Goldie Thompson and Mrs. George Walker.

Miss Catherine Leist, Mrs. Fairy Shaw and son, Mrs. Fern Congrove, Mrs. Mary Richards, Mrs. Hazel Bowman, Mrs. Cleo Stockman Miss Evelyn Kraft, Miss Ethel Brobst, Mrs. Dorothy Majors and son, Miss Mary Clark, Miss Bessie Clark, Mrs. Lola Kraft and Mrs. Pearl Kraft.

Mrs. Ethel Klingensmith, Miss Edwina Holderman, Mrs. Wanda Derflinger, Mrs. Lewis Birchfield, Mrs. Ruth Seimer and Miss Michele Swift, all of Circleville, and the hostesses.

Gifts also were received from Mrs. Fern Downs, Mrs. Effie Albright, Mrs. Mary Albright, Mrs. Marvane Turner, and Miss Myrtle Streber.

Household Hints

Always remove the casing—the material in which the meat is enclosed—before cooking a smoked boneless pork shoulder butt or a smoked beef tongue.

Here's a new vegetable combination—chopped cooked broccoli with finely diced cooked carrot. Season with butter or margarine, lemon juice, salt and freshly-ground pepper.

Making angel food cake? Start from scratch or use a mix; but as soon as you take the cake from the oven turn the pan upside down and place the tube part over the neck of a funnel or bottle. Let the cake hang this way until it is cold. To remove the cake, loosen it from the sides of the pan and the tube with a spatula held close against the a spatula held close to the pan.

"To understand the present, one should examine antiquity."

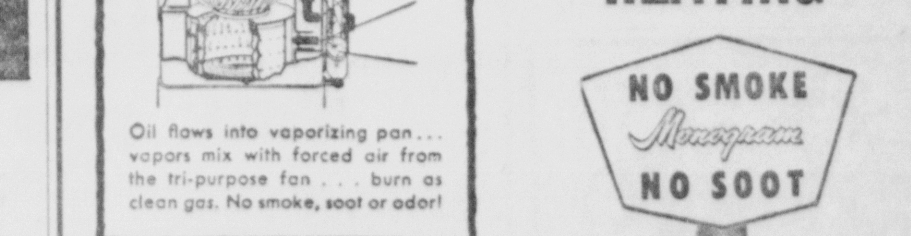

It is obvious that things would not be as they are now had it not been for discoveries made in the past. Smallpox, for example, was the first disease for which immunization was available. # Prefab Houses Not New Item To Builders

Industry Grows Fast, But 100-Year-Old Problems Still Exist

NEW YORK (AP)—Interested in a prefab house? Maybe your great-grandfather was, too.

Commonly regarded as a business baby, the prefabricated housing industry actually has wiskers. In California gold rush days, 5,000 prefab houses were shipped out of the port of New York via Cape Horn for San Francisco. Some of those 1849 houses are still standing, says the National Assn. of Home Builders.

Back in the 1860's there was a Boston firm, Skillings Flint, which sold a lot of factory-made homes, churches and small railroad stations.

Today the prefab industry is livelier than ever but some of its problems of a hundred years ago have still not been solved, although fast progress is being made.

Under the prefab system, whole walls and other sections of houses are made in a factory and shipped to the building site. The shell of a house can be erected and put under lock and key in a day. The finished home can be turned over to the buyer in about a third the time needed in custom building. Price savings of 20 per cent or more have been reported.

The industry is growing away from the monotonous, box-like type of home it has produced in the past. Today you can buy anything from a modest $6,000 house to a $40,000 luxury home in mass produced sections. There's a new trend toward flexibility of design to suit variation in taste and location.

The industry has its own association, the Prefabricated Home Manufacturers' Institute of Washington, D. C., which puts out a monthly magazine. Most of the business is down through builders who often combine prefab methods with conventional building.

Enthusiasts argue, "You buy factory-made autos and factory-made cake mixes—why not factory-made houses?" The argument is powerful but the success or failure of a prefab business varies widely according to local conditions.

The big price advantage of prefab homes only applies where long-distance hauling costs don't eat it away. Some companies say they can compete successfully within 500 miles of their plants.

Building code prohibitions against prefab methods still exist in some areas although modern codes recognize that these methods are safe and sound. Old prejudices, some stemming from wartime prefabs, admittedly temporary housing, still prevail. Then there are financing problems, but these are being licked by prefab companies which form their own acceptance corporations.

One nationally known housing expert said: "If the prefab industry can develop a prefabricated lot, a prefabricated foundation and a prefabricated mortgage, they'll have something. The customer is really interested in them all."

Near the big production centers, buying is very strong. In Fort Wayne, Ind., the No. 1 prefab city, an estimated 75 per cent of new homes is factory-made.

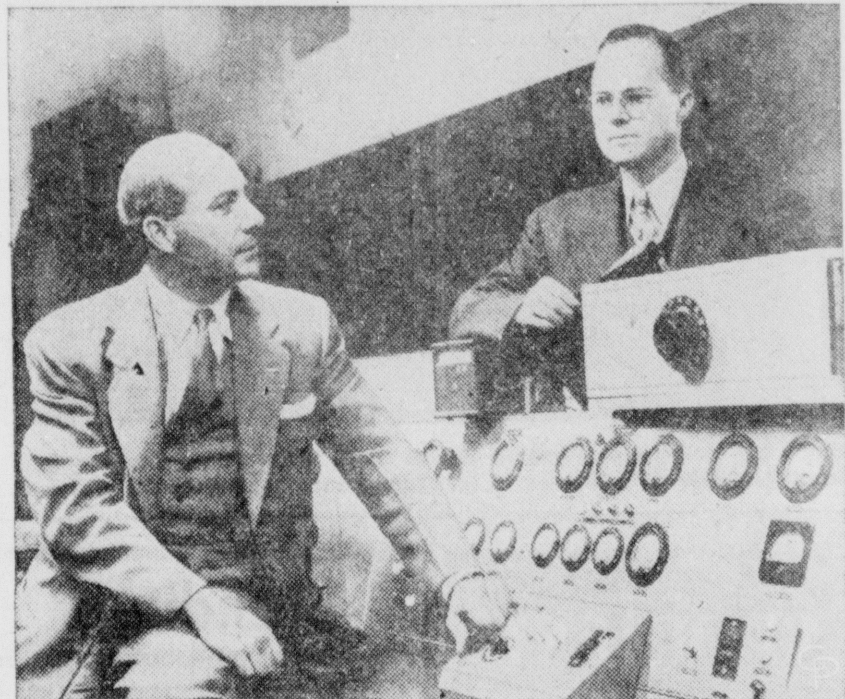

But last year only 55,000 of the nation's 1,100,000 new homes were prefabs. This year, as the nation's housing industry rolls toward another million-plus year, the prefab total at the half year was only 30,000.

The fact is that today prefabbers can't compete economically far from their factories in areas where there are hordes of efficient subcontractors hungry for the conventional type of building business.

That's the way it is today. Tomorrow may be different.

Bermuda's oldest and most noted industry is the growing and exporting of Easter lilies.

GIVE SCIENCE COURSES TRY, HIGH SCHOOL YOUTHS URGED

By Central Press

NEW YORK—Today high school juniors and seniors have an opportunity to select courses which may make or break possible careers in engineering or science.

That is the opinion of Dr. John R. Dunning, nuclear physicist who engineered the Oak Ridge atomic energy plant.

Dr. Dunning, now dean of the Columbia University School of Engineering, advises high school students to try all the science courses they can to discover whether or not they have aptitudes in that line.

"If they like their high school science courses and understand them," Dunning says, "they will very likely make good engineers some day."

A lack of high school chemistry or physics won't necessarily ruin the chances of a boy to become a scientist or engineer, according to Dr. Dunning, but if he shuns these courses because science is mysterious and fearsome, chances are he will never realize what an exciting and creative occupation engineering is.

In spite of starting salaries for engineers of $80 a week, many students entering college refuse to consider an engineering or science career. They often enter occupations which pay less and are less suited to their aptitudes.

HIGH SCHOOL students too often think technical training is for "brains," Dr. Dunning says. "It's true engineers have above average IQs. However, many 17-year-old boys who don't think they're intelligent enough to be engineers, discover three or four years later that they could have made excellent engineers. And it's too late then."

Engineering training is not the grind it once was, Dr. Dunning says. Today industry wants broadly ly trained engineers capable of becoming executive leaders. Consequently, engineering students are given courses in liberal arts and humanities, as well as more technical subjects.

COLUMBIA'S School of Engineering is meeting the need for broadly trained engineers with its "Combined plan for a liberal education in engineering."

Students enrolled in this plan take three years' instruction at any one of the 43 liberal arts colleges affiliated with Columbia. They then go two years to Columbia for engineering training. At the end of this time, they receive one degree from the liberal arts college and another from Columbia.

"This plan takes the pressure off the engineering student," Dr. Dunning says. "At Columbia, only one engineering student in 11 drops out."

Dr. Dunning warned that the nation is critically lacking in engineers and scientists. America's scientific manpower of tomorrow depends on the interest of high school students today.

Mars Development Firm Is Formed

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Three "far-sighted" men have formed the Planet Mars Development Corp. "to subdivide and convey title of such area or areas of said planet Mars to competent persons for suitable remuneration."

Rex Sutton, George B. Pratt and R. B. Ramsey had articles of incorporation drawn up and submitted them to the secretary of state.

The incorporators claimed several advantages that should draw buyers:

1. No road-building troubles (there are no mountains).
2. You will live twice as long (there are 687 days in a year).
3. Mars has a mean temperature of 48 degrees (not too hot, not too cold).
4. No drainage or irrigation problems (there is no water).

Public Cooperation Asked For Patrol

Officer Charles Smith of the city police department has reported that the Safety Patrol has been resumed for the new school year.

Efficient operation of the school-boy traffic cop organization drew widespread praise here last year. Smith said the patrol will again be in operation in the vicinity of Circleville High School, including Corwin School, and also the area of St. Joseph's School on W. Mound St.

Smith pointed out that most of the boys in the Safety Patrol are new on the job this year, and that special cooperation is needed from the public to make their work easier.

Class To Start At Crack Of Dawn

OXNARD, Calif. (AP)—The Oxnard Evening High School plans classes at the crack of dawn.

Reason: A group of businessmen wanting to learn Spanish couldn't agree on an evening class time. A morning hour was suggested.

"I told them that if they were crazy enough to want to go to school early in the morning I'd be foolish enough to teach them," said Police Capt. Robert J. Hinojosa, the instructor.

Starting next Tuesday, the businessmen will attend classes Tuesday and Thursdays from 5 to 7 a. m.

Adkins To Continue As Acting Judge

Attorney Joe Adkins will continue as acting judge of Circleville's municipal court for at least a portion of this week. He said he would continue to serve "for awhile anyway" in place of Judge Sterling Lamb, who has been ill.

Attorney Ray Davis is serving this week as acting city solicitor. City Solicitor George Gerhardt is recovering from a heart attack.

Nixon Booked

COLUMBUS (AP)—A statewide radio-TV network will carry the address of Vice President Nixon when he appears before the GOP state convention here Sept. 15. The program is scheduled for 8 p. m., EST.

THE FINAL LINK in the Northwest passage—the water route from Europe to Cathay (dotted line) sought by explorers since the voyages of Columbus—has been broken by two U. S. icebreakers, the Navy's "Burton Island" and the Coast Guard's "Northwind." They left San Diego early in July (solid black line) and pushed their way through ice-locked M'Clure strait, western entrance to the East-West passage, into the Arctic seas where they now are on a joint United States-Canadian expedition to make investigations of the Beaufort sea and M'Clure strait areas until late September.

Sokolsky's These Days

Charles P. Taft may be sentimentally attuned to the concept that scientific atheism has been invented by Soviet Russia's enemies. If that is so, he has avoided reading the literature of Marxism and the history of the struggle between Marxism and Christianity where these two forces co-exist in the same country. Perhaps he might find the time to study the history of the Bezbozniki, the Society of the Godless, which devoted itself to the destruction of God in Soviet Russia.

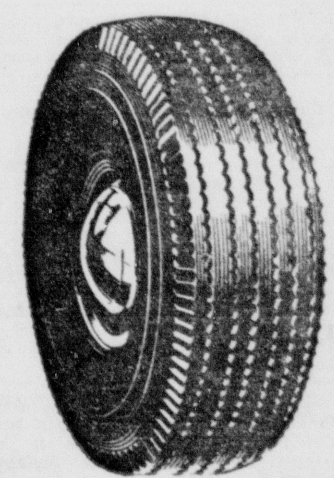

Perhaps he has never heard of Cardinal Mindszenty or of Archbishop hop Stepinac, or of the torture and martyrdom of Christian missionaries in China. He can find full documentation on these subjects. But let me quote "Pravda" a little more, because it tells the story better than I can:

"The Party, which is developing extensive work in the Communist education of the masses, cannot tolerate a neglected scientific-atheistic propaganda. It is the duty of Party organizations to eliminate as soon as possible shortcomings which exist in this sphere and to activate scientific-atheistic propaganda. In our Socialist society, all objective possibilities and prerequisites have been created for the complete overcoming of all remnants of capitalism in the consciousness of the people, including religious prejudices and superstitions. It is necessary to create a large-scale all-encompassing impetus to scientific-atheistic propaganda, and to improve its content decisively."

Skyscraper Sold In Realty Deal

DETROIT (AP)—Two Michigan men have sold their controlling interest in New York's Empire State Building to Col. Henry Crown, Chicago and New York real estate broker.

Roger L. Stevens of Ann Arbor and Alfred Glancy Jr. of Detroit said papers were signed in the office of a New York attorney. They said the formal closing will be made later.

No sale price for the 102-story structure was disclosed.

Stevens and Glancy, along with Ben Tobin of Hollywood Beach, Fla., headed a syndicate that purchased the world's tallest office building from the estate of the late John J. Raskob in 1951 for 51 1/2 million dollars.

Parents Slated For Court Visits

OCEAN CITY, Md. (AP)—Parents from Baltimore should be asked to attend Worcester County Juvenile Court hearings for the 75 teenagers rounded up in raids on beach beer parties, according to State's Atty. Jack Sanford.

"Actually, the parents are worse than the kids," said Sanford, "allowing them to come here without proper chaperones."

He said the raids were ordered after residents complained about teenagers carousing on the beach north of Ocean City.

Clevelanders Pointing To Baseball Data

CLEVELAND (AP)—Coming to the World Series

True, the Cleveland Indians haven't won the pennant yet. Nor can they personally make it mathematically certain in their doubleheader with the New York Yankees Sunday.

But look at these figures: Cleveland has 16 games left to play, and second place New York has 17. If Cleveland wins 10, New York must win 15 for a tie. If Cleveland wins 12, New York must win 17 for a tie.

And if the Indians win 13 of their 16, the Yanks are finished, done for the year, ex-champions. Cleveland Manager Al Lopez, not one to go out on a limb, concedes "things look pretty good" with the Tribe's 4½-game advantage. The fan in the street has few doubts any more, and the out-of-town friends are starting to write Clevelanders about tickets.

Only four games stand before the big Sunday doubleheader, already a sellout. Cleveland enters tonight and tomorrow, the Boston Red Sox Friday and Saturday.

Early Wynn goes for Cleveland tonight in quest of his 20th victory against 11 defeats. His opponent will be Johnny Gray, who has a 3-8 record.

Ashville Irwins Win By 6 To 5 Over Circleville Demolay in 10

Baseball slowly faded from the Ashville scene as the Irwin Insurance team of that community downed a stubborn Circleville Demolay nine 5 to 4 in 10 innings.

Neither team could score for the first five frames. In the sixth, Demolay opened up with two markers on three singles.

But Irwins came right back in the bottom half of the inning to knot the count. However, one run they scored did not count as Jerry Pritchard failed to touch home plate on his round tripper.

Demolay went back into the lead in the seventh with another two-run spurge on two walks and two singles. But Irwin Insurance overcame that and added one more for good measure in the bottom of the stretch inning.

DEMOLAY tied the score again in the top of the eighth on a single and three walks. Jack Hutchison gave up that run as he came in on relief for Dave Kraft for Ashville.

Ashville sewed up the game in the bottom of the tenth. Wilson was safe when his hard smash went through the Demolay second sacker. He stole second and went to third on Hutchison's roller to first. Kraft won his own game with a single to score Wilson.

Charles Hardin went all the way for Circleville. Kraft started for Ashville, Easterday in the seventh and Hutchison finished.

Line score follows:

Tebbetts Hoping For Mound Power

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Manager Birdie Tebbetts is hoping his Cincinnati pitching staff will recover from its recent collapse as the Redlegs open their final eastern swing tonight against the Philadelphia Phillies.

The mound crew fell apart last week during the Reds' final major home stand, and as a result they dropped from a three-game grasp on fourth place to fifth place.

In an attempt to bolster the pitching, the Reds purchased left-hander Cliff Ross from their Tulsa, Okla., farm in the Texas League. Ross had been optioned to Schenectady of the Eastern League where he compiled a 13-9 record for a last-place club.

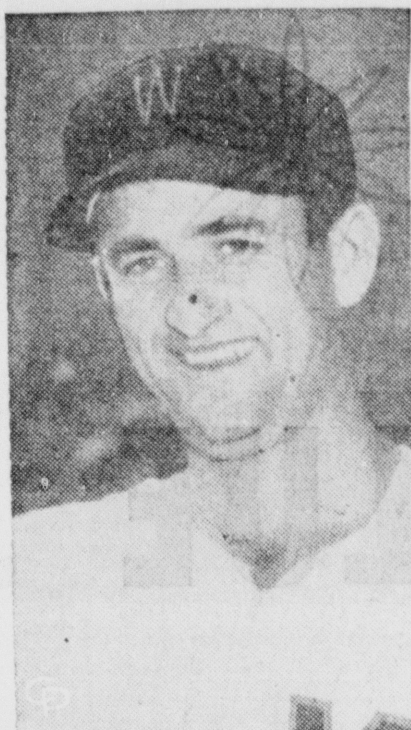

trainer; he had more energy than the student manager and as for football, no one knew as much as Pop."

After a few months of law, Warner began a grid coaching career which lasted for 47 years of developing winning teams, new plays and great players. He coached at Carlisle Indian School, University of Pittsburgh, Stanford University and others. He was advisory coach at San Jose State College as his last official connection with the gridiron.

Warner, the great coach, inventor of plays and contributor to the development of the game which occupied his life, was 83 years old when he died here shortly after noon yesterday, after months of illness with cancer of the throat.

From across the nation, past and present greats in the gridiron world sent condolences and voiced heartfelt tributes to the incomparable old man.

Perhaps Ernie Nevers, former Stanford All-American fullback whom Warner said was the greatest player he ever coached, best summed up the general feeling. "He was the greatest, that's all," declared Nevers. "He could fix a brace better than the doctor; he had more psychology than the

MICKEY VERNON, Washington's first baseman, becomes the third active major league player to hit safely more than 2,000 times in his career. His three hits in a Washington game against Detroit gave him a total of 2,002. Others in the 2,000-class are Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals and Enos (Country) Slaughter of the New York Yankees who, however, garnered most of his hits when he, too, was with the Cards. ## 2 Questions Raised About Fallen Bums

BROOKLYN (AP) — Now that the Brooklyn Dodgers have all but given up any hope of winning the National League pennant, the time has come to ask two questions:

1. What caused the downfall of a club that was virtually conceded the flag before the start of the season?

2. What's in store for rookie Manager Walt Alston?

The answer to the first is a combination of injuries and players not living up to expectations.

To the second: no one knows, not even President Walter O'Malley.

"There is a ready explanation of why the Dodgers are in third place and not first place," O'Malley said today. "And you cannot blame the manager for it. He is not responsible for Roy Campanella's hand injury; for Carl Furillo's slump; for the loss of Johnny Podres for six weeks; for Carl Erskine's failure to live up to 1953; for the lack of respectable pitching from Don Newcombe and for Preacher Roe's almost total ineffectiveness."

It was just a month ago that O'Malley voiced a complete vote of confidence in Alston. Now he declines to repeat it.

Well, then, will Alston be retained next year? "We are not making any announcement about it until our usual time," answered O'Malley. "We will go into it after the season is over. This certainly is no time to discuss the matter."

Galophone Stars In Horseman Stake

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Galophone, trailing third in the first heat of the $28,000 Horseman Stake for 2-year-old trotters, came flashing back in the second and third heats yesterday to nip Butch Hanover.

The colt, owned by William Maybury of Dexter, Maine, and driven by Houghton Stone, finished with winning heats of 2:05 and 2:08, while Butch Hanover had 2:04.3 in his first heat victory.

Michigan State's intramural athletic program includes 22 sports ranging from archery to weight lifting.
